Exhibition funding decision

Prepare a March proposal for the Andy Warhol Foundation. Remove the Foundation for Contemporary Arts Emergency Grants program from the organization's pipeline.

Illustrative applicant: a US visual arts nonprofit with 501(c)(3) status, a $150,000 annual budget and no previous Warhol Foundation award. It plans a public installation of new work by two artists for September 2027.

Project Grants for Small-Scale Organizations

$20,000 to $30,000 for direct costs · March 1 and September 1 annually

The annual operating budget falls within the $200,000 ceiling. The proposal concerns temporary new visual work for public presentation. The September opening allows a spring-round project to start on or after July 1.

Next action. Confirm that funded activity starts on or after July 1. Obtain the artists' production plans, the operating and project budgets, and the organization's IRS determination letter. Set a February 15 internal review for the three-page proposal.

Exclude Foundation for Contemporary Arts

Emergency Grants

Individual artist support · Rolling applications

The program accepts individual artists as applicants. The exhibition organizer is an arts presenter, which the funder excludes.

Next action. Remove this opportunity from the organization's application calendar. An artist facing an urgent, qualifying expense can evaluate a separate personal application.
